News of Strathcona

'SCONA'S STILL IN DARKNESS

Mayor and Councilor Rankin Urge That More Rapid Steps be Taken to Get New Engine in Running Shape. Cent is Now Ready.

Strathcona streets are still in twilight darkness and nothing but really yet been done, except to gather some cement, in order that the large power house engine be ready to running condition. After spending the week its installation in the early part of January it is now no nearer proper running shape than at the time it was discovered to be defective in its footings two months ago.

Meanwhile considerable discontent is being expressed throughout the town and this was voiced to some extent by Mayor Mills and Councilor Rankin at the regular meeting of the town council on Tuesday night.

Councilor Rankin stated that the people had waited all last winter and also this winter and still there was no light. He urged that something be done to rush on the work in rebuilding the engine foundation as decided some time ago.

Councilor McFarland who is chairman of the committee having the work in charge stated that it was impossible to use the cement with the present cold weather and besides the cement will injure the smaller engine when it was running during ordinary working hours as it is at this season.

Councilor Rankin urged that some steps be taken at once even if money have to be used to hasten the cement and a canvas tent be placed around the smaller engine now used to supplying the incandescent light plant. The mayor supported Councilor Rankin and stated that the people are getting sick and tired of dark streets. Soon there will be so light needed in the main part of the evening and meanwhile the money invested in the new plant is standing idle.

The question was left with the light and power committee with the suggestion that they make all possible haste to get the plant in running shape.

TO SUSPEND FIRE LIMIT BY-LAW.

Mayor Mills of Strathcona has written a letter to the council suggesting that the fire limit by-law be suspended except the part applying to Wayne Avenue between West Railway and Main streets for three or six months as the council may fit.

As the reason for this course he pointed out that the high price of bricks making it difficult in many cases the high and rapidly growing rents in the city; the inefficiency of the houses and buildings in the town and other causes that tend to make it difficult to erect more buildings at the present fire by-law prescribes.

The communication was handed over to the by-law committee and they will submit a report at next meeting.

THE AGREEMENT SIGNED.

At Strathcona yesterday, the agreement in accordance with the by-law granting the franchise for the artificial gas company was signed by Messrs. Stringer and Eakin and Mayor Mills and the Secretary Treasurer. The contract is now completed as far as Strathcona is concerned and after the granting of the franchise by Edmonton it is the intention of the promoters to start work at once.

ROYAL TEMPLARS.

The Royal Templars of Temperance have made arrangements with Mr. Walker L. Hall, International Templar, to give a series of addresses to be given at Strathcona. The first will take place on Sunday next at the Baptist church at 415, Subject Africa vs. India. The Rev. Alexander S. Prendergast will be supplied by a Male Quartette party. Other meetings will be announced later.

NEW SECRETARY BOARD OF TRADE

Mr. James Weir, Late Editor of the Saskatchewan Capital, Will Conduct the Publicity Campaign of Strathcona Board of Trade.

The new secretary of the Strathcona Board of Trade, Mr. James Weir, formerly of Hamilton, Ont., and now residing at 200, 2nd St. S. E., has been appointed by the board of trade. Mr. Weir has been in Strathcona for the last two days in response to the request of the council, and has made a very favorable impression on all whom he has met. A meeting will likely be held today or tomorrow, at which the formal appointment will be made.

Mr. Weir is a gentleman of about 42 years of age, and a native of Hamilton, Ontario. He has for a number of years been connected with the Canadian press in the capacities of reporter, special correspondent, editor and manager.

For some months prior to January last, Mr. Weir filled the position of Commissioner of the Board of Trade, Strathcona, and resigned, intending to leave the work due to the Saskatchewan Capital, on which paper he was chief editorial writer. Unfortunately the plant was destroyed by fire a short time later and Mr. Weir is thus at present open to the engagement by the Strathcona board.

The new secretary has a host of references, including many of the prominent citizens of Strathcona, Canada and the United States and the other benefits that will accrue from the efforts of an experienced man in charge of the advertising campaign to be conducted by the board.

The young men's clubs of the Knox Presbyterian church and the Baptist church are closing the debating season with a banquet at Jasper's cafe on Friday evening. A suitable program of speeches, songs, etc., has been prepared, and an enjoyable evening will be spent.

Mrs. Chard of Fort Saskatchewan, is the guest of Mrs. F. A. Walker for a few days.

Miss Grace Robison has returned from a delightful informal "at home" after Monday night, with Miss Margaret de Vries and a number of the audience as guests.

His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and his wife entertained at a pleasant small dinner last night when Mrs. Chard.

Vay de Vay and Hon. A. C. Rutherford were the principal guests.

Mrs. H. A. Blackburn held her post-nuptial reception at the King Edward yesterday, looking very attractive. It is said, in a dream crop of children with lavender trimmings. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Mrs. Morgan and by her sister, Mrs. Maloney.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.
The Ladies' Musical society, having changed their day of meeting from Saturday afternoon to Monday, request all the members to be present at the home of Mrs. Froese, 223 Fifth street, on Monday afternoon, March 18, at three o'clock.

THE SENATE'S USE.

A good story of President Lincoln is told by Maurice Leve in a recent number of Appleton's. He says:
"This is a critical time in the Civil War, when the senate had been particularly obstructive, one of Lincoln's ardent sympathizers burst in upon him and boldly denounced the senate and finished with the advice: 'What? The use of the senate, anyway?'
"Lincoln, breaking a cup of tea in his honest fashion he poured the tea into the cup to the stove and had said to cool it off, undisturbed by the senator's vehemence.
"Well," said the man impatiently, 'state the use of the senate!'
"I have just shown you," was Lincoln's answer, and once more the tea was poured.
"The man looked puzzled. Then a great light broke upon him. 'You mean it is useless passion on your part?'
"The greatest of American presidents smiled and shook his head.
"That, then, is the function of the senate of fools."

AS THE WORLD GOES.

There are times when the woman at home living in the gray commonplace of daily duties, of small household details and care for the little ones has an insight into other lives that makes her own commonplace look to her eyes with radiant with pleasant recollection.
And the dulled life may be made lovely by the way in which one regards it.
In direct contrast with the quiet life of the home woman was that of Mrs. Arthur's wife, a well-known American portrait-painter in Paris. While the average woman is day in and day out, contributing her share of the life of the world, the artist and her work is a woman's life by her own hands.
The art of a wife she left behind her to find out. In fact, all was sufficient to find when she was found with the smoking revolver in her hand.
Another pitiful human myth had dashed of its own will into destruction.
And even here in cold Canada, where occasional episodes occur at long intervals, there is a mystery and disturbance in the mind that suggests again the possible dangers of life for the not-average woman.
In Ottawa it is said the very greatest society circles not only in high official quarters, but throughout the artistic life of the city of Mr. Arthur's wife, Mrs. Behrens, is known to have arrived in Montreal on Friday evening from Ottawa, but since the moment she left the parlor car and set foot in the station there nothing has been ascertained of her whereabouts.
The ladies' musical society, having changed their day of meeting from Saturday afternoon to Monday, request all the members to be present at the home of Mrs. Froese, 223 Fifth street, on Monday afternoon, March 18, at three o'clock.

United States and Canada to look for his sister.
While in Ottawa, some time previous her departure, Mrs. Behrens had frequently discussed a lawsuit to which she was concerned and which, at the present time is under way in New York state. About a year ago a brother of Mrs. Behrens died in New York city, leaving his entire property to the Christian Science movement.
Mrs. Behrens maintained that undue influence had been brought to bear upon her deceased relative in order to secure his property and the instituted proceedings against the Scientists. To strengthen her case a twin brother of the dead man, who it appears was intimate with him, volunteered to testify against the Scientists.
A few days before Mrs. Behrens's departure a letter was received from the "very handling her case, stating that he had been suddenly despatched on a treaty for his sister. This had a very disturbing effect on Mrs. Behrens and she spoke very strongly about the matter, while appearing at the same time to be somewhat afraid of them.
When leaving Ottawa on Friday, March 22nd, for Montreal, Mrs. Behrens remarked to the lady of the apartment house where she lived, "I'll be back in four or five days, but if I'm not, and you don't hear from me, you will know that the Christian Scientists were right."
What Mrs. Behrens had said with her in her shape of woman cannot be said with certainty, but she was in New York with funds. During a number of weeks (five) she was always well supplied with cash and had fully a thousand dollars in her pocket when she left her day at the capital.

RECEPTION DAYS.

Mrs. Behrens will receive on Thursday afternoon next week, the usual monthly reception day at Government House.

A number of the members of the legislature were entertained at dinner last night by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Boyle.
Among the guests present at a large dinner party given by Mrs. Charles Goodfellow, was Mrs. Morgan, of Edmonton.

The Hon. Dr. Ella Scarlett-Syngue, who was comfortably settled at her new apartments (suite 8, post office box 11) will receive next Monday afternoon.

Mr. John T. Moore, M.P.P., of Red Deer, arrived in a telegram yesterday evening the birth of his first grandchild. The little girl and her mother, Mrs. Lockwood, of Professor George, who, due to education at McGill are very well and strong.

His Honor the Lieutenant Governor has expressed his intention to attend the public lecture, to be given by Mr. Howard T. Wood, in the assembly hall of St. Mary's Avenue school on behalf of the Edmonton Educational Association. The date was been fixed for Monday evening, March 18th.
Mr. W. H. McKenney, M.P.P., and Mrs. McKenney entertained several members of the legislature at dinner on Monday night. The hostess wore a black silk gown with white and silk lace trimmings, while Mrs. McKenney was attired in white embroidered silk. The dinner table was attractively entered with a low bowl of sweet peas, set in folds of filmy white tulle.
Canadians will be interested in the announcement recently made in England of the engagement of Lord and Lady Minto's second son, the Hon. Dudley Minto Gordon, who, educated partly in Canada and partly in Scotland, has been holding a captaincy in the 2nd Battalion of the Gordon Highlanders, made himself a popular dancing soloist. The bride-elect, Miss Minto, is the great-grand daughter of the 8th Duke of Rutland, on her mother's side, and her father's place, the Penrhyn district. The marriage is fixed for April 23.

Hon. Frank and Mrs. Oliver entertained last evening at one of their usual charming weekly dinner parties. Pink sweet peas and magnolia made a charming table decoration. Those present included Col. and Mrs. Harry Williams, the speaker of the House and Mr. Dandurand, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Root, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Machado, Mr. Leveson, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Fane and Senator Young — Ottawa Evening Journal.

Mrs. Ewing was the hostess at another delightful bridge party on Tuesday afternoon. It was the fortunate winner of some very pretty prizes were Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Barrow. The consolation prize fell to Mrs. Evans. Four tables of players enjoyed the hospitality of their hostess.
At the St. Patrick's Day concert in Fenella's Academy next Monday night an interesting feature of the programme will be a magnificent orchestra of ten young Indian girls from the Robinson Institute, who have been trained by Rev. Father Wolrath, an enthusiastic musician.

THIS BUSINESS MAN GIVES THE MORMONS GREAT PRAISE

Says They are Industrious Enterprising and Loyal Citizens, and are not Practising Polygamy.

To the Editor of the Bulletin.

Sir: Having noticed the accounts of severe criticism of the Mormon people of southern Alberta by Messrs. Kirkpatrick and Rommerville, I feel it my duty to say something in defense of a people I very much admire, and who have done much towards putting up a portion of the province with an industrial people.

For the past ten years I have made four or five regular business trips each year to most all of the settlements in question as they were opened up, and now if they were likely to become a detriment to our country. On the contrary I have found the members of the Mormon church with whom I have had business dealings during that time without exception all that could be desired from a commercial standpoint and although we have shipped many thousands of dollars worth of goods into the district each year, during that time we have yet to lose our first cent in the district, which in my opinion is good evidence of the character of any community.

During that time they have not always had good crops, etc., but they always had faith in the country, and looked forward to the future. I have often conversed with my friends down there on the question of plural marriage, and although they all believe it right in the sight of God to have more than one wife, they say that they obey the laws of the country, and there have been no plural marriages for some years; and from my personal observations I have seen nothing which would make me believe this not to be a fact. Some of the leading men in the church I consider personal friends of mine and I was very sorry indeed to hear that two of the producers of the Presbyterian church, of which I am a member, should make such accusations as they have done without first proving for themselves that the information was reliable. I was very much pleased to see the way Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, defended them in the House of Commons at Ottawa, and I decidedly agree with what he said in their defense. I do not know of any people who spend one quarter as much of their time in the interests of the church and Sunday school work as the Mormons people do, and the latter is an organization that is a great credit to them.

Regarding their loyalty one has only to visit the district on July 1, in any year to see the way old and young join in observing in a way that puts many of the older towns even in Ontario to shame on that question.

H. J. MADILL, Calgary.

percentage of the temperance movement, to vote upon a local option law. Again I agree with J. F. Moore, the man for the West, that the two rooms should not be allowed to keep open so long as they do at present. If there were closed at seven o'clock every evening, the temptation offered young men after the day's work to be allowed, to spend their evening hours in a bar room, would be a considerable extent be removed. The temperance streets and the game of the people to shorter hours until they are granted. We are not going to give up.

If I must admit the act ending several provisions that are helpful to the cause of temperance. For instance, the restriction of licenses to cities, towns and villages ride up on the curved cross roads hotel which has been a menace to morality in many a community in Ontario, the province from which I come—a provision noted for the strong and aggressive temperance sentiment. I have long believed the country hotel, located as it always is, at a four corners, away from the lights of the hotels situated in the towns and be a hot-bed of vice. More evil is rampant in such places in one day than could be being caused in hotels. I had villages a week for business has to be conducted more openly, and little more carefully.

Then, again, I was glad to notice Mr. Crow's provision preventing wages from taking their first glass of liquor, never thought of such a clause, but as soon as I read Mr. Crow's speech and his explanation of that particular clause, I was delighted. Occasion upon occasion have I known young men to enter a hotel bar for the first time in order to have his check cashed, and just as often have I learned of young men taking their first glass of liquor, at such a time. Naturally the young man feels that he must buy a drink or a cigar, when he asks the bartender to accommodate him by cashing his wage check. Often this one drink starts him on the downward course. The insertion of this provision in the act will remove the necessity for many men entering a bar.

I am glad also that hotels cannot be located near a church or a school. That is a wise and commendable provision.

Mr. Crow's declaration that his new law will be rightly enforced is good news. The weakness of the license laws in many states and provinces is that failure to enforce them. The Government will make itself strong and make temperance if it energetically compels the license-holders to obey every provision of the act. If it fails to do so, it cannot expect any sympathy from those who conscientiously believe the liquor traffic is a curse.

I hope that the Government may soon see the way clear to give to the province the privilege to vote upon local option, and also to eventually abolish the bar. While disappointed that legislation of this nature is absent from the new act, still, as a temperance man, I am satisfied that our cause is materially assisted by many of the provisions announced by Mr. Crow. I always believe in giving credit, where credit is due.

A WORD OF APPROVAL FOR THE NEW LICENSE LAW

Prominent Temperance Reform Advocate Endorses Government's Policy.

The following letter from a temperance man of long standing in this province gives expression to the general sentiment on the temperance movement and legislation of the government:

Editor Bulletin—

"It was much interested, as an advocate of temperance for some years, in the new liquor act introduced in the legislature last week by Hon. C. W. Crow. Though of Conservative leanings I must admit the temperance cause has been more fairly treated by the Liberal party than by the Conservative party in nearly every province of the Dominion. Still, I expected more from the Alberta Government than has been given, principally because the members of the ministry are looked upon by the temperance people of the province, as friends of the cause. And yet there is much in the bill to be thankful for.

"Personally, I looked for a clause granting local option, wherever the ratepayers voted in its favor. That would have been a long step in advance and would have greatly assisted the temperance movement. Provincial prohibition is out of the question but I think every city, town and village should be given an opportunity, if a

(From the (New Correspondent).

On March 7, the Hon. Mr. Cartwright, Minister of Trade and Commerce, has laid before the assembly a bill which will establish a system of state annuities in Canada. The measure is not introduced as a Government proposal, but is being the matter in a tangible shape before Parliament and the country. It is understood that the minister will give full consideration to the bill, and that when the matter is discussed in Parliament and the public opinion of the country is known, the main provisions of the draft bill are summarized herewith.

THE PROPOSALS SUMMARIZED.

1. His Majesty, representing and acting by the minister, may, from time to time, subject to the provisions of this act and of any regulations made thereunder, the authority of this act, enter into and execute any contract, whether immediate or deferred, and whether conditional upon the continuance of the life of the annuitant or for any certain limited term of years, such annuities shall be chargeable and charged with and shall be payable and paid out of the fund by the Government Annuity Fund.

8400 ANNUITY.

2. A government annuity shall not be made in favor of any person other than the actual annuitant, nor for any larger amount than four hundred dollars annually; the total amount payable by way of a government annuity or government annuities to any annuitant shall not exceed four hundred dollars annually, and shall any government annuity be payable to any annuitant until and unless that annuitant has reached the age of sixty years.

3. The minister may refuse to contract for any government annuity in any case where he is of opinion that there are sufficient grounds for refusing to do so.

4. No TRANSFERS ALLOWABLE.

5. The property and interest of any annuitant in any contract for a government annuity shall not be transferable, either at law or in equity, and the minister shall not be affected by notice, however given, or any instrument affecting any government annuity.

IMMUNE FROM SEIZURE.

6. The property and interest in any contract for a government annuity of any annuitant shall be exempt from the operation of law relating to bankruptcy or insolvency, and shall not be seized or levied upon by or under the process of any court.

REFUND OF PREMIUMS.

7. In case of the death of any annuitant before the time at which a government annuity becomes payable to him, all monies paid by him in consideration of such annuity shall be paid to his heirs or legal representatives, and, in default thereof, at the rate of five per cent. per annum.

8. In such cases the provisions of section seven of this act shall apply to such monies.

MANAGEMENT.

9. The governor in council may from time to time, make regulations, not inconsistent with this act—

1. As to the use of the moneys approved from time to time by him for determining the value of government annuities; and for the revocation of all or any of such tables and the use of other tables approved by him.

2. For the discontinuance, after notice to the Canada Gazette in such form and manner as he thinks fit, of the sale of government annuities, if he deems it advisable so to do.

3. For fixing the kinds and classes of government annuities which may be secured, the maximum and minimum limits of the amounts thereof, and the amount and mode of the payments to be made therefor.

4. As to the mode of making and the forms of contracts for government annuities, including all requirements as to applications therefor.

5. As to the mode of proving the age and identity and the existence or death of persons.

6. As to the mode of paying sums of money payable under such annuities, and the management of the accounts required to be kept.

7. As to the dealing with an application of unclaimed government annuities.

8. The doing of everything incidental to the foregoing matters or necessary to the effectual execution and working of this act and the attainment of the objects thereof.

10. All moneys received under the provisions of this act on account of the purchase of government annuities shall be paid into consolidated revenue fund under such regulations as the governor in council from time to time prescribes in that respect; and a distinct and separate account of all moneys shall be kept, and an account shall be called "the government annuities account."

11. Such moneys shall be held and invested, and in the sale of three tenths of them the minister of finance and receiver general and the auditor general shall be consulted, and the third shall be retained by the governor in council.

INVESTMENT OF FUNDS.

12. The said trustee shall from time to time invest the moneys standing to the credit of the government annuities account, first and by preference in government securities of Canada and of the several provinces of Canada and of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and secondly, in such other securities as are from time to time authorized by the governor in council.

13. All moneys payable under his act, or on account of government annuities are hereby made chargeable upon and shall be charged to in the government annuities account.

IN EVENT OF SHORTAGE.

14. If at any time the moneys standing to the credit of the government annuities account are insufficient to discharge the amount so chargeable, the auditor general shall, under the warrant of the governor in council, and on the recommendation of the minister of finance and receiver general, notwithstanding the provisions of this act, out of the consolidated revenue fund to the credit of the government annuities account for the purpose of paying in full the moneys so due.

15. The minister of finance and receiver
